Electronic Technology Provides the Flexibility You Need

Managing postage expense is an important task for most businesses and the E500 AF System offers a choice of options to meet your specific needs.

- Never run out of postage again with resetting. You can avoid trips out of the office by re-crediting your meter quickly and easily, over the phone in less than 90 seconds.
- Keep track of postage expenses down to the penny. Our electronic meters track postage for up to ten accounts as a standard feature, and expanded accounting options are available.
- Guard against returned mail with SmartDating. An internal calendar alerts you if the date is not set properly.
